That's great Ross, thanks! See you tomorrow then!

Cheers,
Garry

Hi Ross,

Thanks for setting that up. I've set up my account and created a separate branch for my edits. That's about as much as I've had success with though! While I understand the principles of what it's doing, I'm struggling with the actual implementation. Would it be possible to have a Webex chat on Saturday or Sunday morning to go through setting it up with me?

Thanks again,
Garry

Hi Garry,

Magnus has gotten back to me, it seems the email slipped under his radar unfortunately but he says that it's perfectly fine to add you as a contributor. I've sent you an invite to the GitHub repository which you should have received an email for as well. If you could go ahead and fire the current version of the app into that, commit it and push it, that would help us a lot, thanks. A quick tutorial on how to do that can be found here: https://youtu.be/5HLst694D_Y

Thanks,
Ross
